

Why Student Voice Matters

When students have a voice, they have more meaningful learning experiences. Data from 103,125 students who took the Quaglia Student Voice Survey shows that ...

When students believe they have a voice, they are

25%

more likely to report having Self-Worth in school.

37%

more likely to report having a sense of Purpose in school.

41%

more likely to report experiencing Engagement in school.

48%

more likely to report being Academically Motivated.

78%

more likely to report having Teacher Support.

Scan to learn more about the Quaglia Institute surveys.

