STUDENT VOICES

MOUNT GLEASON MIDDLE SCHOOL CASE STUDY 2021-2022

Interviews/Reflections (Teachers):

"Student voice helps the teachers and staff to reflect on what students need and improve on those things. The student voice survey is a reflection of the progress we have made as a school but most importantly the improvements we need to make."

- Mrs. Vazquez

"It's vital to hear the voices of our students from diverse backgrounds and cultures. Students need to make their own choices and take responsibility for their learning. This will empower students to become successful independents and will help prepare them for the future, in education and their careers."

- Mrs. Lee

"Student voice gives us a unique perspective from the students themselves. It allows us to reflect upon our methods and the effectiveness of what we are doing at school. It provides us with information that gives us specific opportunities to grow."

-Mrs. Arguelles-Mendieta

"Student voice has really and truly changed the way I think about my students, my school, and myself. This process has empowered me to be my truest self and to encourage my students to be their truest selves as well. My favorite shift has been to ask students WHO they want to be, rather than WHAT they want to be. So powerful!"

- Mrs. Goldsmith

Interviews/Reflections (Students):

"I think the most important thing about a student's voice is that one person's voice can make a difference. For example, if one student says that something was a problem and everyone agrees with the student if that student didn't say anything maybe the problem would not be fixed."

- Ariana B.

"As a student I know teachers like it when I use my student voice is because when you participate in class, you teacher knows you there. I feel like my student voice matters because sometimes if you're asking a question, your teacher responds to you. If you need help then your teacher would be able to help you." - Valerie S.

"I think the most important thing about student voice is that people need to understand that not everybody has the same opinion about stuff, so when someone is trying to say something, I recommend you listen to what they have to say and try to understand it from their point of view. " -Sose S.

"Student voice is important because it is one of our first opportunities in life to share our opinions and form policy that affects our lives."

-Troy W.

MOUNT GLEASON MIDDLE SCHOOL CASE STUDY 2021-2022

School Voice Survey:

Mount Gleason Middle School improved on 44 of the 50 survey statements in the Student Voice Survey between 2019 and 2021, reflecting a significant growth trajectory as a result of the intentional, hard work of the Aspirations Team. Not surprisingly, 2022 data resulted in a dip in student perceptions during this difficult transition year. Despite this challenging year, MGMS still saw growth on 18 of the 50 survey statements between the 2 survey administrations this school year, most notably the following:

-Students develop programs that improve the whole school. (6.6% improvement)

- I know the goals my school is working on this year. (6.5% improvement)
- I am a valued member of my school community. (4.6% improvement)
 - Teachers have fun at school. (4.1% improvement)
- I am excited to tell my friends when I am successful. (4.1% improvement)
 - At school I am encouraged to be creative. (3.8% improvement)
 - School is preparing me well for my future. (2.6% improvement)
 - I feel comfortable asking questions in class. (2.3% improvement)
 - Other students see me as a leader. (2.2% improvement)
 - I like challenging assignments. (2% improvement)
 - Teachers are willing to learn from students. (2% improvement)

Moving Forward:

As we head into the 2022-23 school year, Mt. Gleason will continue to make Student Voice the cornerstone of our school community; encouraging our students to take ownership of their actions and their school. We will continue to empower our students to use their voices for the good of the whole.
